Problem 7: Data Manual

The data that I used for this assignment came from the following URL:

<http://www.repole.com/sun4cast/stats/cfb20130907.xml>

It is a collection of college football statistics and contains individual teams and their records. It contains the detailed stats of the 2013 college football games including passing, rushing and turnover statistics. It is mainly organized by college football team name, dates of the game, and then end-of-game total stats for each team and every game.
